ASBURY COLLEGE is a private, independent, Christian, liberal arts institution, providing academic excellence in a context of spiritual vitality. This nationally recognized, nondenominational college offers programs in more than 40 majors of study and several graduate programs to a student body of approximately 1,200 students. Founded in 1890, the College's globally aware heritage has produced more than 20,000 living alumni who live and serve in all 50 of the United States and more than 70 nations.

The mission of Asbury College, as a Christian Liberal Arts College in the Wesleyan-Holiness tradition, is to equip men and women, through a commitment to academic excellence and spiritual vitality, for a lifetime of learning, leadership and service to the professions, society, the family and the Church, thereby preparing them to engage their cultures and advance the cause of Christ around the world.

Following In Faith

I had plans. Earlier this year I thought my wife, Rilla, and I would semi-retire in Florida. In a step of faith, however, I accepted the presidency of Asbury College. Through relationships with many of the College's former presidents, this institution became very familiar to me. I had developed a great respect for Asbury College's mission. So changing my plans to follow God's plan was more than a privilege, it was an honor.

I follow a long line of faithful leaders. I knew the Gyertsons personally and still maintain that relationship today. Dave and Nancy were part of seeing God's faithfulness to this College. During their time here, the College's enrollment increased, our students worked at the Olympics in Atlanta and our presence was made known on the World Wide Web.

I became acquainted with Dr. Dennis Kinlaw when he spoke in chapel at Roberts Wesleyan many times. His holiness message was the same one he spoke in Hughes Auditorium. He is a man who embodies academic excellence and spiritual vitality. The College hired some of its most beloved professors during Dr. Kinlaw's presidency. Many of those professors still teach today.

Drs. Paul and Kay Rader are no strangers to Rilla and me, as well. Kay served on the board at Roberts, so we have known them for some time. When asked to serve their alma mater, they faithfully and willingly accepted. Now, six years later, their presidency has been marked by gifts to the College, like the $2-million Lilly Endowment Grant and the Asbury Initiative for Student Leadership Internships. These grants have enabled students to experience cross-cultural opportunities – opportunities that will now be part of every students Asbury College experience. What a heritage!

And, just recently, I visited with Dr. Cornelius (C.R.) Hager. He is a man who exemplifies the attributes of servant-leadership. Dr. Hager stood in the gap as president three different times. His leadership was pivotal in preparing the College for it's next permanent leader. This is a position I appreciate even more as the board of trustees continues to seek the right candidate to lead Asbury College for the next 10 to 20 years.

This institution has a great history of faithfulness and service. There is much yet to do.

> "This institution has a great history of faithfulness and service."

There are so many opportunities and wonderful programs that set this institution apart.

We are expanding programs and revising our core curriculum. We are defining our distinctives in order to best market the institution. We are canvassing the campus for capital improvements. All the while, we will continue to emphasize our Wesleyan-Holiness tradition, as a fundamental Christian education is more important than ever.

To do this, we need your help. Your support is integral to the success of Asbury College, a place where lives are changed and have been for more than 100 years. Thank you for your financial support and your prayers. Please consider how you can make this vitally important experience a reality for this generation of students.

In faith,

William C. Crothers
President

SOMETHING Better

An article by Dr. Victor Hamilton, Professor of Bible & Theology

It is well known that a key word that appears frequently throughout Hebrews like a constant drumbeat is the word "better." In the NIV it appears eleven times (6:9; 7:19; 7:22; 8:6; 9:23; 10:34; 11:4; 11:16; 11:35; 11:40; 12:24). In the KJV, in addition to these eleven times, it is present three more times (1:4; 7:7; and a second time in 8:6). This article will focus on its appearance in 11:40—"God had planned something better for us…."

"Better" appears frequently enough in the Gospels, but usually in comparative phrases like "A is better than B," a use that is common in the Old Testament books of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes. What is almost unique to Hebrews is the use of "better" as an adjective before a noun ("better things" [6:9]; "a better hope" [7:19]; "a better covenant" [7:22]; "better promises" [8:6]; "better sacrifices" [9:23, and see 11:4]; better…possessions" [10:34]; "a better country" [11:16]; "a better resurrection [11:35]; "a better word" [12:24]).

The last two verses of Hebrews 11, on which we are focusing, state; "These [all the individuals mentioned in vv.3-38] were all commended for their faith, yet none of them received what had been promised. God had planned something better for us so that only together with us would they be made perfect" (11:39-40, NIV).

This conclusion comes at the end of a list of entries into the "Hall of Faith" from over almost the whole Old Testament, and possibly beyond into the intertestamental period. There are actually two lists, those named individuals in vv.3-34 ("Abel…the prophets"), and the second group, unnamed and simply identified as "others" (vv.35b-38). The first list emphasizes what these faithful persons were able to accomplish. The second list emphasizes the mighty price these "other" faithful paid because they were faithful (e.g., "tortured…faced jeers and flogging…chained…stoned…sawed in two"). Both groups are applauded for their faith (v.39a, "these were all commended for their faith,") i.e., both those did mighty things for God and those who had horrific, unmentionable things done to them.

If one were to speculate on what an Asbury College version of Hebrews 11 would look like, it would take a shape like this: "By faith John Wesley Hughes…by faith Henry Clay Morrison…by faith Z.T. Johnson...by faith Y.D. Westerfield…by faith Dennis Kinlaw…by faith Joe Thacker… by faith Cecil Hamann…by faith Paul Ray…by faith Cecil Zweifel…" and so forth.

In fact, Asbury College's "Hall of Faith" might differ in one important way from Hebrews 11's. It would include more women: "By faith Bettie Morrison…by faith Roberta Corbitt…by faith Mildred Pike…by faith Irene Howell…by faith Yvonne Moulton…" and so forth. By contrast, the list in Hebrews 11 includes only one woman (Rahab, v.31), two (Sarah), if the NIV's footnote to v.11 is placed in the body of the text (as I think it should be) rather than confined to a bottom-of-the page footnote as an alternate reading.

To return to the Hebrews 11 passage, let us now pay close attention to what it is saying. First of all, note the contrast between the "these" of v.39 (i.e., all the referenced individuals in the previous verses, and long since deceased, both the named and the anonymous), and the "us" of v.40 (i.e., the writer of this epistle, his immediate audience, and by implication, all of us). This contrast will force us to reflect on the significance of the relationship of the "these" of v.39 to the "us" of v.40, on the relationship of the past to the present (and the future).

The writer of Hebrews 11 never criticizes in vv.3-38 anybody's faith as flawed. On the contrary, each representative is presented as a model of faith. Hebrews 11:6 does not say "it is impossible to please God" (although some readers of this article may have been exposed, regrettably, at some point in their life to a caricature of God as implacable). What Hebrews 11:6 does say is that "without faith it is impossible to please God." Note all these individuals in Hebrews 11 did please God! Accordingly, any failure to attain the promised benefaction from God ("… yet none of them received what had been promised," v.39b) is not due to any fault or deficiency on their part, but is due rather to the plan of God ("God had planned something better for us…." [v.40a]).

F. F. Bruce, a leading New Testament scholar from the last half of the twentieth century, penned these perceptive words about these faithful who persevered, but did not receive what God had promised: "All in verses 1-38 lived and died in prospect of a fulfillment which none of them experienced on earth, yet so real was that fulfillment to them that it gave them power to press upstream, against the current of the environment, and to live on earth as citizens of that commonwealth whose foundations are firmly laid in the unseen and eternal order" (Epistle to the Hebrews. NICNT. Revised edition, 1990:330). With certain modifications one could apply those sentiments to many who were our forebears at Asbury. Think, for example, of those who built on our campus in the 1920's a chapel to seat 1,300, with a student body of around 300. They "lived and died in prospect of a fulfillment which none of them experienced," i.e., a 1,200-1,300 student body packing out Hughes.

"Without faith it is impossible to please God."

Hebrews 11:6

The "something better" God has planned for us in v.40 is, I would argue, the life and presence of God made available to all through the faithful life and death of Jesus, his triumphant resurrection and his high-priestly ministry.

If this reading of "something better" is on target, then I would propose that the audience to whom the writer of Hebrews wrote would not at all be surprised by the claim of v.39 that none of these faithful, but pre-Christ, persons experienced that reality. How could they have? What would surprise his readers is the claim at the end of v.40 that "only together with us (i.e., we who stand this side of Calvary) would they (i.e., those who stand on the far side of Calvary) be made perfect."

What might that mean, and why is it a surprising statement? There is no doubt that the original audience to which Hebrews speaks would affirm that they needed the witness of these earlier paragons of faith as a source of inspiration to their own faith pilgrimage. Even today, which of us is not stimulated to a deeper, more robust faith by a sermon or a Bible study or a quiet reflection on "the faith of Noah," or "the faith of Abraham," or "the faith of Moses," or "the faith of Joseph"? Here is a God-honoring witness to a life of faith lived out in a world of spiritual depravity. These individuals are our heroes and heroines. We live by their example. We need them!

> "These forerunners of faith must wait for the rest of us so that all of us can cross the 'finish line' together."

But that is not the point of v.40. The point of v.40 is that they need us—"…so that only together with us would they be made perfect," or "apart from us they cannot be made perfect." These forerunners of faith must wait for the rest of us so that all of us can cross the "finish line" together. To quote a verse from a not particularly well know hymn of Charles Wesley ("Come, Let Us Join Our Friends Above"), "E'en now by faith we join our hands/With those who went before,/And greet the blood-redeemed bands/On the eternal shore."

Let us give an Asbury College version of that. We who are newer to the Asbury scene revel in the stories of faith our earlier collegiate fathers and mothers have bequeathed to us. Their stories of how they trusted God so unstintingly, especially in very challenging times, is inspiring and challenging. They are among our spiritual heroes and heroines. We need them and we need their example.

But here is the beauty of our Hebrews text. Not only do we need Hughes, Morrison, Johnson, Kinlaw, Gyertson and Rader, but Hughes, Morrison, Johnson, Kinlaw, Gyertson and Rader need us! They need you and me. They need us to complete the vision God birthed in their souls about a Christian liberal arts college in the Wesleyan tradition in the heart of central Kentucky, a college that would impact the world for the Kingdom.

By Faith

There is some commercial on TV whose punch line is, "it doesn't get any better than this." One wonders in their walk with God if an Abraham or a Moses or a David did not think that. One wonders if during the revivals of the 1900's-1970's that a Morrison or Kinlaw did not say, "it doesn't get any better than this." But then along comes our text, "God had/s planned something better for us." That "better" is not meant to overshadow or eclipse, or render insignificant those good things God did in an earlier era. We are, to employ an overused phrase, dwarfs on the shoulders of giants. Their shadow has swept over us, as did Peter's on the sick in Acts 5:15, and we are forever changed.

Our predecessors need us in the same way that the first two runners in a 4 x 100 meter relay race need the last two runners. Even if the first two runners each run their best times and have a perfect baton passing between them, the race goes for naught, regardless of its perfect start and pass, if in passing the baton to the fourth and final runner someone drops the baton. A splendidly run half of a race does not count. The first two runners will not be able to glory in their times on their leg of the race. Runners one and two need runners three and four, and vice versa.

In my judgment Asbury College is at a place where our first and second runners have passed the baton to us. For all the good and incredible things God has been pleased to do for us in the past, could it be that Asbury College is on the verge of even "something better" that God has for us? These are, it seems to me, our choices—a dropped baton, or "something better." We accept the responsibility and privilege for receiving the baton that others have passed to us. Then God will show us "the something better" He has planned for Asbury College. ✠

> "For all the good and incredible things God has been pleased to do for us in the past, could it be that Asbury College is on the verge of even something better that God has for us?"

U.S. News top rankings

For the 14th year in a row, the College has received top rankings by U.S. News & World Report. The 2006-07 edition of America's Best Colleges places the College third in comprehensive colleges in the South. The College stood out in this year's rankings by placing third in the area of our graduation rate. Asbury College's traditionally strong emphasis on community and freshman retention contributes to this strength, as does a focused, intensive program to help new students adjust to college life.

Lilly Foundation grant continues

In May, the College received a $500,000 continuation grant from the Lilly Foundation for the Transformations Project, a comprehensive program designed to infuse the campus with the Christian concept of vocation. That Lilly grant enabled Linda Stratford, associate professor of art and Lilly Scholar, to help curate "A Romance with Landscape: Realism to Impressionism" at the University of Kentucky Art Museum.

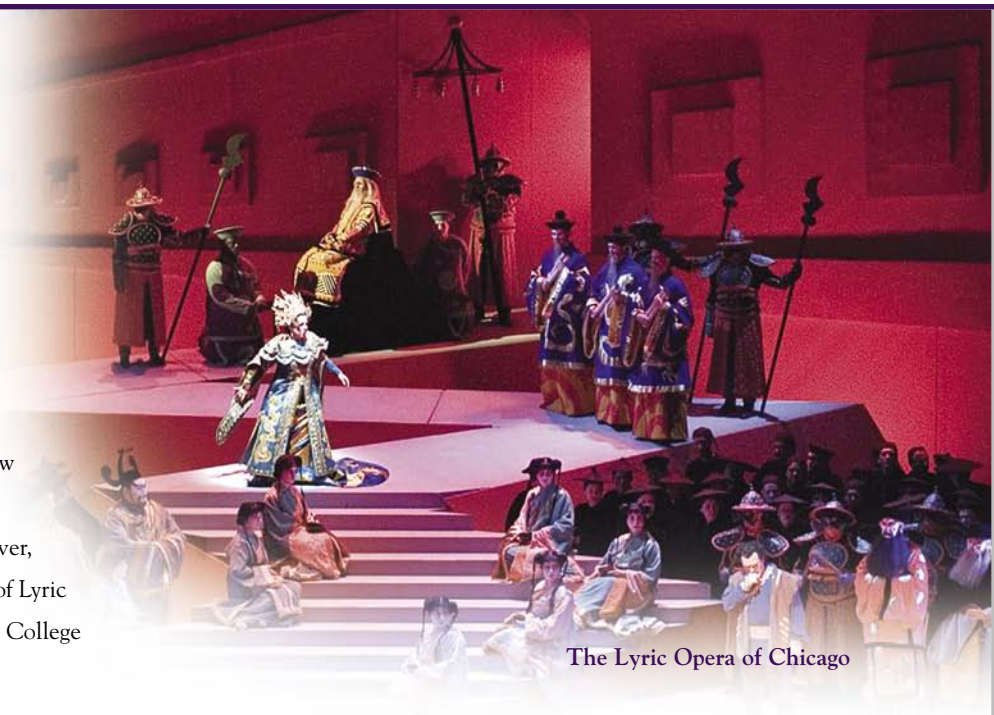
Annual Opera Opportunity Funded by Alumnus



The Lyric Opera of Chicago

David Valkema '88, executive director and vice president of the board of directors for The Pauls Foundation in Chicago, has arranged with The Lyric Opera of Chicago to include Asbury College students in the "NExT Discount Tickets" program. This new program was originally set up primarily for Midwestern colleges and universities; however, as a favor to Valkema, the general director of Lyric Opera, William Mason, has allowed Asbury College students to participate.

NExT Discount tickets allow students to attend operas at the Lyric Opera of Chicago for $20. Check at www.lyricopera.org/education/students.asp for more information about the program and to procure tickets. Valid student identification cards will be required.

The Pauls Foundation has also been the sole underwriter for Asbury College's annual opera workshop programs on campus since the last school year. The production of Mikado in February of 2006 and the production of Amahl and the Night Visitors, scheduled for December 9-10 in Hughes Auditorium, has been funded by The Pauls Foundation. Valkema has communicated that he will make every effort possible including asking other opera supporters to help in funding future Asbury College Opera productions as well. We appreciate greatly Mr. Valkema's and The Pauls Foundation's commitment and support to our students and to the College.

Soccer field, cafeteria renovated

Renovations to the Z.T. Johnson Cafeteria and soccer field were completed this summer. J.P. Rader '83, Steve Rehner '79 and Tom Calkins, members of the planning board for the soccer field, helped assess the needs of the student-athletes and plan the project. They worked with athletics and the development office to raise funds through a soccer reunion in April and a phonathon campaign. Beginning in May, the soccer field was expanded and re-seeded. New bleachers were added and a lighting system is coming soon.The field was ready in time for fall play. The cafeteria also received a facelift and new layout to welcome students back to campus this fall. Bathrooms were added and are now handicap accessible.

New indoor riding arena

The College broke ground for the Harold Rainwater Equine Arena in October. The $250,000 indoor arena is a 120 x 180-foot facility to be completed in time for the spring semester. It will provide a 72 x 180-foot indoor riding arena as well as 10-12 stalls, meeting rooms, offices, a wash rack and storage areas. The new facility will enable students to ride and train horses year-round. It also provides uninterrupted class time in all weather conditions including after dark. Students will be able to board their personal horses in the facility's stalls. Five gifts have been committed to cover more than $200,000 of the total cost. This facility comes at an opportune time as the World Equestrian Games arrive in Lexington, Kentucky in 2010.

Teacher education program No. 1

The Teacher Education Program was ranked No. 1 in Kentucky. Asbury College recently received top rankings from the Education Professional Standards Board. The College received an "Excellent" rating and an overall quality performance index (QPI) of 3.88, which is higher than all public and private colleges in Kentucky. In 2004-05, Asbury College graduates had a 100 percent pass rate on the PRAXIS test. The QPI formula is based on a 4.0 scale and calculates how well Kentucky education programs prepare students for the classroom.

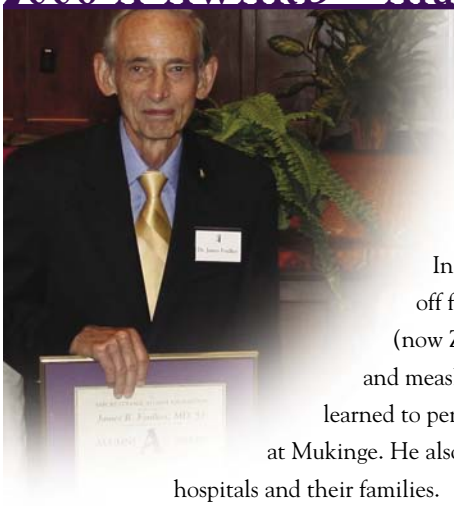
2006 A-AWARD – Alumni Recognition



Jim Foulkes '51

Dr. Jim Foulkes '51 received the "A-Award" for his service as a medical missionary for 38 years in Africa.

In 1958, Foulkes and his wife, Marilynn Hall, set off for the Mukinge Hospital in Northern Rhodesia (now Zambia). Foulkes treated everything from malaria and measles to African Sleeping Sickness and AIDS. He learned to perform cataract surgery and opened an eye center at Mukinge. He also hunted wild game to feed the people in the hospitals and their families.

The first AIDS case was diagnosed in Mukinge in 1986 and within a few months there were 42 confirmed cases. Convinced that the number would climb, Foulkes secured an AIDS microreader to screen a large part of the population for AIDS. He and his team went into schools and taught about abstinence and fidelity to stop the spread of AIDS.

Ministry in Africa came at a great personal cost to Foulkes. He buried his wife, Marilynn, and two of their five children, David and Jill, in Africa.

In 1975, he married Martha Penner, a missionary nurse who had worked at the hospital with him for many years. Since his retirement in 1997, Foulkes has returned to Africa under the auspices of Samaritan's Purse to a hospital in Southern Sudan. In 1998, he was honored by the World Medical Mission with their Excellence in Medical Missions award.

In 2005, Foulkes published his story in To Africa with Love: A Bush Doc's Story with a foreword by Franklin Graham.

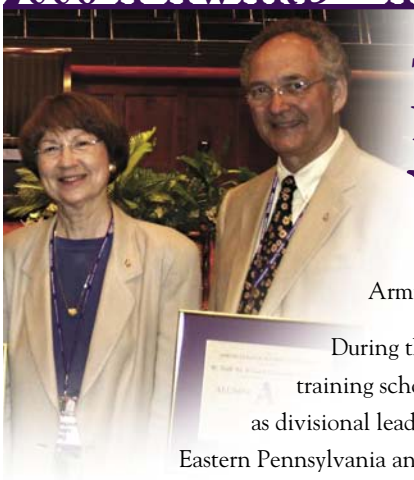
2006 A-AWARD – Alumni Recognition



Todd '61 and Carol Easterday '62 Bassett

W. Todd '61 and Carol Easterday '62 Bassett received the "A Award" for their 42 years of service as Salvation Army officers.

During their career, the Bassetts served as corps officers, training school officers, territorial youth secretaries as well as divisional leaders in Northern New England, Empire State, Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware divisions.

In 2000, their appointment sent them to London at the International Headquarters. Todd served as the international secretary to the chief of staff and Carol was the mission resources secretary.

In 2002, the Bassetts returned to the U.S. when Todd was appointed the National Commander for The Salvation Army and Carol served as the National President of Women's Ministries. As National Commander, Todd managed The Salvation Army's $2.5 billion budget as one of the nation's top charities. He was recognized as one of the countries top CEO's by the Non-Profit Times.

The Bassetts have represented United States' arm of The Salvation Army all around the world, meeting with heads of states, Prime Ministers, dignitaries, as well as the President of the United States.

In 2005, Todd was elected to the National Interfaith Cable Coalition, Inc. Board of Trustees.

The couple retired from the Salvation Army in April 2006 and are enjoying retirement in Maine.

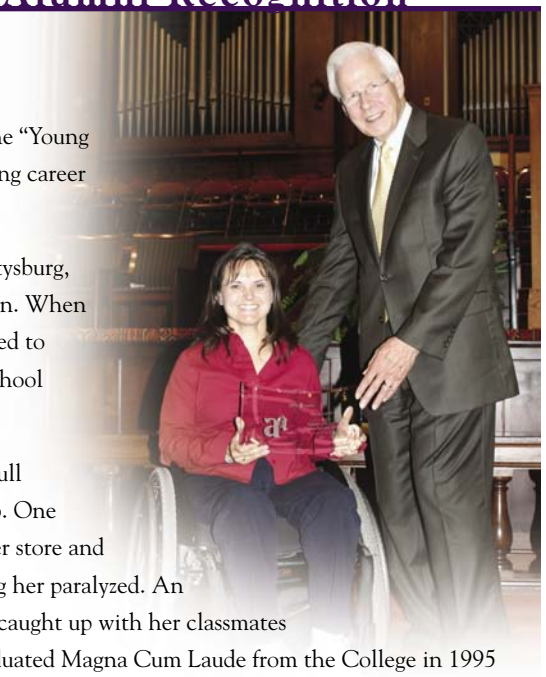
2006 A-AWARDS – Alumni Recognition

Malinda Stull '95



Dr. Malinda Stull '95 receives the "Young Alum Award" for her outstanding career as a researcher and scientist.

Stull grew up in a Christian home in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the youngest of five children. When she was a junior in high school, she decided to attend a Christian college. Her Sunday school teacher recommended Asbury College.

The summer after her sophomore year, Stull returned home to work in a souvenir shop. One quiet afternoon, a stranger walked into her store and shot her twice— the second bullet leaving her paralyzed. An outstanding and determined student, she caught up with her classmates after missing only one semester. Stull graduated Magna Cum Laude from the College in 1995 with a degree in chemistry. That year she was named "Outstanding Student in Chemistry."

She went on to complete her Ph.D. in cell and molecular biology at the Penn State College of Medicine in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

Traveling internationally, Stull has also visited Kenya two times with New Hope International Ministries. These trips have taken her to the Kenya Highlands Bible College, the Africa Gospel Church in Nakuru and Tenwek Hospital.

In 2006, she was recruited back to her alma mater as an assistant professor of biochemistry. She began teaching at Asbury College this fall.

Reunion 2006

More than 1,025 alumni and families from the classes of 1929 through 2001 flocked back to campus, June 21-25, for Reunion 2006 Full Circle.

Reunion classes this year raised more than $100,000 for the reunion gift project, which was the final phase of a three-year project to re-curve the semi-circle. David Coulliette '81 and Daniel Kiteck '01 chaired this project. In addition, the Class of 1956 added $25,000 to their 1956 Kenyon Scholarship fund, bringing its endowment to $120,000. Class president Ken Ashitomi '56 announced this gift at the Alumni Banquet, after adorning his fellow classmates with leis from Hawaii.

J.P. Rader '83, Steve Rehner '79 and Tom Calkins were named volunteers of the year for their work on behalf of the soccer field refurbishment. The first phase of the project began May 3 and was finished in time for fall play.

Drs. Paul '56 and Kay Fuller '57 Rader were honored for their service to Asbury College upon their retirement from the College's presidency. Dr. Rader served his alma mater for six years following his and Kay's retirement as Salvation Army officers.

Choral, handbell and theatre alumni were invited back to campus for fellowship and fun. The choral and handbell alumni reunited on Sunday for a concert in Hughes before the worship service with Dr. Rader. ✍
