1 Dayton School of Business students hosted a fundraising event in September. 2 The fall Chapel semester works through the theme, The Story We Find Ourselves In, accompanied by Asbury's live worship bands. 3 TeamAU competes in preseason competitions to build community amongst athletes. 4 Produced by students, the podcast "This is Asbury" highlights Asbury faculty and staff, as well as special guests. Faculty and staff gathered at Windsor Manor in September for a launch celebration. 5 The Henry and Elsie Bayless Arena offers Equine students a unique 100-by-226-foot sand/dirt combination surface for training. 6 The Adventure Leadership program hosted its annual Archways trip the weekend before school started in August. 7 In October, Asbury's Set Apart Retreat ventured to Panama City Beach, Fla. Photo by Olivia Mansfield. 8 Dr. Brandon Rickabaugh, center, was a guest of the Honors Program in the fall semester, speaking on the topic of artificial intelligence, faith, and consciousness. 9 Rev. Steve DeNeff spoke in Chapel for the Behold & Belong series.

President's Report

A Pathway to a Flourishing Future

The president's comments in the Ambassador typically accord with a theme or emphasis. In this issue, I want to report and our executive leadership's vision to fulfill our mission in the days ahead.

Stanley McChrystal, former U.S. Army General and Senior Fellow at Yale, makes the distinction between "complicated environments" that can be planned, managed, and optimized through routine and efficiency, and "complex environments" that are highly interdependent, non-linear, and characterized by short bursts of explosive change with multiple moving parts. Planning that worked in the former environment, he says, is unlikely to work in the latter. In his book "Team of Teams," he writes:

The models of organizational success that dominated the twentieth century have their roots in the industrial revolution and, simply put, the world has changed. The pursuit of 'efficiency'—getting the most with the least investment of energy, time, or money—was once a laudable goal, but being effective in today's world is less a question of optimizing for a known (and relatively stable) set of variables than responsiveness to a constantly shifting environment. Adaptability, not efficiency, must become our central competency.

Former Asbury President Dave Gyertson describes this as the shift from Aircraft Carriers to PT Boats — the latter being adaptable to changing "sea conditions." The higher education environment is shifting. Labor trends, artificial intelligence, demographic changes, and a decline in institutional Christianity all play a role in considering Asbury's strategic fulfillment of "academic excellence and spiritual vitality" in future years.

There are dozens of important outcomes we measure at Asbury University — different metrics that map back to the timeless nature of our mission. But for our next strategic focus, we are giving specific attention to three key areas that, if successful, facilitate a "culture of readiness" to fulfill our mission in today's dynamic environment and provide a roadmap for a prosperous future.

The key areas are as follows.

SUSTAINABLE GROWTH

For Asbury to flourish in the future as a robust Christian liberal arts university, we will need consistent and sustainable revenue generation from academic offerings and programs, auxiliary services and endowed assets. This will require a thoughtful appraisal of our core competencies and how they can be leveraged, our current suite of academic offerings and their relevance to student and employer demand, and a business model structure that fosters innovation and growth among campus leaders.

FAITHFUL STEWARDSHIP

We have a fiduciary responsibility to faithfully and prudentially steward every dollar that is earned, gifted and expensed as an institution. This requires internal covenants to maintain responsible budget measures, accountability to budget management, institutional transparency, effective communication, prioritization and continuously bringing budget decisions to bear against missional effectiveness. Not only are we responsible for resource stewardship. As followers of Christ we have a relational obligation to our community, our students, our alumni, our donors, and our stakeholders to faithfully manage our resources.

CULTURAL CLIMATE

Asbury University provides programs to prospective students. Our processes exist to originate, sustain, service, evaluate and effectively deliver our programs. Our messaging is the strategic and deliberate communication of value to prospective students, alumni, stakeholders and the broader community. The effectiveness of each of these independent yet overlapping functions will rise and fall proportionate to the cultural climate they exist within. For a robust and flourishing campus culture, we must advance value-added activity, reinforce healthy accountability, build and sustain trust and psychological safety across persons and departments, and emphasize practices positively correlated with missional buy-in and employee satisfaction.

We believe that strategic attention to growth, stewardship and culture can create "a pathway to a flourishing future."

Asbury's history is marked with greatness — and that is due to committed and talented staff, faculty and alumni who have left a Godly thumbprint on our beloved institution and continue to provide prayer and support, today. Thank you.

As I have said many times, the methods and modalities to fulfill our mission have changed and will continue to change. But our mission of formative, student-centric academic excellence and spiritual vitality does not change. The successful completion of Asbury's next strategic focus assures that we are adaptable to the timeliness of today's complexities to continue fulfilling our timeless mission.

Kevin J. Brown, Ph.D.
President

Record Breaking Class Stats

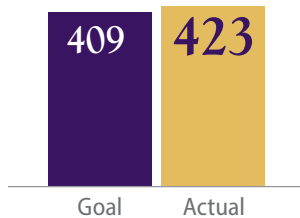

- Largest traditional undergraduate (TUG) incoming class in 25 years.
- Each incoming class for programs as a whole (TUG, Online Undergraduate, Graduate, and Academy) grew by at least 20% year over year.
- This is our 2nd highest group of incoming TUG freshmen ever (1997 was the highest).
- This is our 6th highest group of incoming TUG + TUG Transfer students ever. (We had extraordinary transfer activity in the late '60s to mid-'80s.)
- We have the second-highest percentage of freshmen to sophomore retention in 30 years.
- This is the largest year-over-year change in total students in Asbury's history. (Approximately 300 new student headcount.)
- Finally, if we combine all students starting/restarting our traditional undergraduate program together (freshmen, transfers, readmitted students, non-degree seeking students, and Academy), 2023 is by far the highest incoming headcount in Asbury's history.

A Call to Pray

THIS HAS BEEN A YEAR FILLED WITH “MORE”...

- More than we could have expected or imagined as our students stayed after Chapel, praying for the Lord to break through – and break through He did, His light shining in the darkness.
- This light was contagious and more people than we have ever seen (within 16 days) flooded Wilmore, desperate for more than this world offers.
- More people experiencing freedom as chains were broken and captives were set free.
- More guests on campus this summer with our camps, Reunion and conferences.
- More freshmen than we have had in 25 years. Praise the Lord!
- More of His goodness and mercy poured out on us as we lean into this new semester.

More. More given and more received.

WE ARE ASKING YOU TO PRAY WITH US...

- For John 17 unity as we seek after our Father.
- To be marked by what we experienced. We are different. Changed. Come, Holy Spirit, pour out Your spirit on us.
- For our students. They carry heavy burdens. They wrestle with or are surrounded by family members who battle depression, anxiety, addiction and suicidal ideation. Pray for victorious power for this generation of young people that they may be set free.
- For our faculty, staff and administrators as they lead and serve.
- For our alumni and friends. May they know they are deeply loved and may we live out our faith in Jesus. May our actions speak louder than our words.
- For us to be one with God. He is with us, and He is in us.

“All glory to God, who is able, through His mighty power at work within us, to accomplish infinitely more than we might ask or think.”

My Case For a Christian Liberal Arts Education

EMILY HURT '24 | MEDIA COMMUNICATION MAJOR

My senior year looks very different than I would have predicted four years ago.

As a freshman, I pictured myself becoming a sought-after filmmaker and moving to Los Angeles or Atlanta immediately after graduation.

Fast forward to today, and I have a Spanish minor despite having no knowledge prior to college. I've gained professional sports broadcasting experience at the Olympics, played violin and cello in several music and worship ensembles, dipped my toes in marketing, graphic design, and journalism, sung a solo and danced in a musical theater workshop.

The addition of all of these areas to my educational experience has not diminished my capacity to pursue my major, but rather, it has enhanced the work I do in media communications and elsewhere. The lines separating my major from my foundation classes, extra-curricular clubs, and Chapel have begun to blur, the categories bleeding into one another. The things I have learned from these other disciplines help me to tell better stories through film and give me richer opportunities in my career.

My final two choices for universities were Asbury and a well-known art school; if I had gone to the art school, I would have gained only a fraction of what I have gained from the liberal arts education that Asbury offers. I now have a stake in all the disciplines of thought and have established myself as a lifelong learner. To borrow from the oft-quoted words of the poet Walt Whitman: "I am large, I contain multitudes."

My most recent skill acquisition is that of podcast producing. I have had the privilege to help facilitate Asbury's newly revamped podcast, "This is Asbury." I have had an invigorating front-row seat to conversations with extremely learned minds in every corner of academia. The most encouraging part of these conversations is hearing each of these professors and guests give an account for the evidence of God in their area of expertise. God is present in psychology, film, business, history, music, and equine sciences thus, Christians should be present in those places as well.

In what other setting can you wonder at the mysteries of the Divine with a biologist, an accountant, a teacher, a poet and a physical therapist? Only in a Christian liberal arts institution. I recognize the value of this unique environment and will cherish the remaining time I have to be a member of it. My time at Asbury has expanded my being and capacity for thought in ways I would not have achieved elsewhere. God doesn't waste any bit of experience, and I am eager to see how He plans to use everything I have learned here in the film industry and beyond.

A Mission Unwavering

Asbury practices prayerful allocation of resources

LARRY D. BROWN '80, CHAIR,
ASBURY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

This edition of The Ambassador recognizes individuals, foundations and businesses who have made financial contributions to Asbury University in the last fiscal year. As chair of the Board of Trustees, let me say, Thank You! You have participated in resourcing the mission of Asbury University, therefore playing an important role in preparing students to engage their culture for Christ through academic excellence and spiritual vitality.

Asbury's governing documents assign to the Board of Trustees the responsibilities of governance, policy making and resourcing the University to meet the purpose which the Lord gave to John Wesley Hughes in 1890. To meet this mandate the Trustees, individually and collectively, have a fiduciary responsibility to all of Asbury's constituencies — students, employees, alumni and donors.

As fiduciaries in this context, the Trustees are responsible for holding true to the purpose of Asbury, which requires alignment with the authority of Scripture, Wesleyan theology and education of the whole person. As for students, it means providing an environment and experience to promote intellectual, spiritual, physical and relational development. It requires support for faculty, staff and administration, who by their professional expertise and Christ following lifestyle, help develop students preparing them to be leaders and live a testimony for Christ. For alumni, we continue to celebrate the history and traditions of Asbury as well as the accomplishments of those who are Asburians for life.

To our donors, the Board's commitment is Biblical stewardship of your sacrificial gifts to scholarships, endowments, programs and capital projects. Through your generosity, the cost of an Asbury education is moderate in relative terms; facilities have been built and/or renovated to provide for a 21st-century educational experience for students and work environment for faculty and staff; and the University has a strong balance sheet with relatively little debt. I trust you will continue your support of the University. There is more to be done to adjust to the educational modalities required in today's environment, provide for appropriate compensation of faculty and staff, meet student and parent expectations for residential living accommodations and offset the higher costs due to inflation.

On a personal note, my wife, Lisa, and I have supported Asbury University with time and donations for many years. We do so because we are confident in the stewardship of our offerings and trusting that multiple young people will be developed as whole persons and carry the light of Christ into their and future generations. We are glad you have joined us in this effort and trust that you will do so in the future.

Again, on behalf of the Asbury University Board of Trustees – Thank you!

NEW MATH AND SCIENCE MAJORS

The Asbury University Department of Mathematics and Computer Science (formerly the Department of Mathematics) will launch the Computer Science major in the fall of 2024. By studying Computer Science, students could learn coding and programming for jobs of the future at technology companies, corporations, universities, government agencies and the military.

Also launching next fall, the Engineering Mathematics major offers four concentrations: Bioengineering, Engineering Management, Industrial Engineering and Materials & Energy Science Engineering. With this major, students can prepare for graduate school and rewarding careers in biotechnology, government, manufacturing, aerospace and more.

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS PRESENT RESEARCH AT SCIENCE CONFERENCE

Assistant Professor of Chemistry Dr. Will Shafer, Rebekah Bogle '24, and Katherine Stanley '24 attended the Tri-State Catalysis Society's meeting where Stanley and Bogle presented their research posters. "In science, questions are just as important as answers," Shafer said. "Rebekah and Katherine ask solid questions, and they are ready to move into Ph.D. programs." Bogle conducted summer research using NASA samples at Argonne National Lab and Oakridge National Lab.

ASBURY TO PARTNER WITH UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

Asbury University is pleased to announce an agreement with the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy (UKCOP) to guarantee its students up to five seats per year in the Doctor of Pharmacy (Pharm.D.) program. UKCOP was ranked as the No. 6 pharmacy school in the nation by "U.S. News & World Report" in 2020. Effective fall 2023, the 3+4 program offers a pathway for students to finish their Bachelor of Arts in Biology – Pre-Pharmacy at Asbury and their Doctor of Pharmacy degree at UKCOP in seven years. "This is an example of the important ways that Asbury University continues to prepare individuals to engage in service to the professions, society, individuals and their cultures while advancing the work of Christ to the nations," said Asbury University Provost and Chief Academic Officer Dr. Sherry Wilson '77 Powers.

NEW TESTAMENT SCHOLARS PUBLISH BOOKS

Assistant Professor of New Testament Dr. Joy Vaughan released a new book entitled, "Phenomenal Phenomena: Biblical and Multicultural Accounts of Spirits and Exorcism." Published by Baylor University Press, the book surveys the intersection of Western and global perspectives to compare modern and ancient accounts of spirit phenomena. Visit asbury.edu/ThisIsAsbury to hear a podcast episode with Dr. Vaughan.

Also, Professor of Bible and Theology Dr. Kevin Anderson recently published "Hebrews and the General Epistles," a new book in the "Reading and Interpreting the Bible Series" (The Foundry Publishing).

ENGLISH PROFESSOR PUBLISHES NOVEL FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Professor of English Dr. Devin Brown recently published his second novel for young people. "Not Exactly Love" is available from Amazon where was named the No. 1 New Release in Teen & Young Adult Christian Relationship. Visit asbury.edu/ThisIsAsbury to hear a conversation with Dr. Brown.

ASBURY MEDIA STUDENTS WIN THREE STUDENT PRODUCTION AWARDS

This fall, The National Association of Television and Sciences (NATAS) announced the 2023 Ohio Valley Student Production Award winners, with Asbury University students within the Media, Journalism, and Digital Storytelling department winning three awards. "Don't Forget Us" won an award for the Non-fiction – Short or Long Form category. Travis Price '23 was also an Asbury award recipient, winning the Arts/Entertainment/Cultural Affairs Lifestyle or Music Video Award for his music video "Elevator Earthquake." He also secured the Directing/ Writing award for his film, "Toast," in which Gavin Reed '23 won an award for his photography work.

Asbury students also won three Kentucky Broadcasters Association (KBA) Impact Awards: Best Public Affairs, Best Newscast, and Best Sports Coverage. This year marks first wins for Asbury in these specific categories. The Best Public Affairs award went to Asbury's Gracie Turner '23, Madeline Heineman '24, and Lucy Bryson '23 for their feature-length documentary, "Don't Forget Us." Heineman secured the Best Newscast for her coverage of the Outpouring in February. Communication and Bible-Theology major Chloe Stivers '25 received the award for Best Sports Coverage for "Soccer Is for the People."

HISTORIAN PUBLISHES NEW BOOK ABOUT CHRISTIANITY IN CHINA

Assistant Professor of History Dr. Alex Mayfield published a book that explores the development of Pentecostalism in Hong Kong between 1907 and 1942. Focusing primarily on Pentecostal missionaries and the Chinese leaders who worked alongside them, Mayfield analyzes how changes within the social structures and ideological frameworks of global Pentecostalism dramatically impacted the movement within the colony. To listen to his podcast about "The Kaleidoscopic City: Hong Kong, Mission, and the Evolution of Global Pentecostalism," visit asbury.edu/ThisIsAsbury.

CAMPUS ENERGIZED BY BELOVED CLASS

As the Beloved Class of 2027 acclimates to its first college semester, campus bustles with students eager to get involved. Asbury celebrates this class as the largest enrollment in decades, with more than 420 new students. Including graduate and online students, Asbury's all-encompassing enrollment reached about 1,939 students, an increase of nearly 20 percent.

While many outsiders attribute the spike in enrollment to the Outpouring in February, data points to other contributing factors. "I think that what happened in February was helpful for us to just reinforce to people the clarity of 'this is who we are, and this is who we desire to be,'" said Asbury President Dr. Kevin Brown in an interview with Inside Higher Education on how the Outpouring publicized the University's Christian values, which is becoming appealing to the upcoming generation.

"What I really think the Outpouring did was solidify the truth we stand on for the prospective students we already had and drew in transfer students who already knew they wanted a Christian education experience," said Vice President of Enrollment Jennifer McChord on Inside Higher Education. Students in the Beloved Class come from 30 states, with 40 new international enrollments from all continents except Antarctica and Oceania/Australia.

ANDRUS FAMILY DONATES TRACTOR TO EQUINE PROGRAM

On Sept. 16, the Asbury Equine program celebrated a new John Deere tractor, available through the generosity of the Andrus family who honored their father with this creative gift. "This tractor will serve Asbury for years to help continue to grow our program," said Equine Program Director Harold Rainwater '69. "This larger and modern tractor will allow us to better care for the land that serves our horses and our students who train them for public service."

FORGED PROGRAM INVESTS IN YOUTH MINISTRY LEADERS

This semester, Asbury's Forged youth ministry coaching program invested in adult leaders through discipleship and youth ministry training so that they can excel in their calls to ministry. Forged is a selective two-year training experience for youth leaders designed to teach practical strategies and spiritual disciplines that increase the longevity and effectiveness of Salvation Army ministry leaders.

"One of the most exciting things about this program is that it allows each participant to recognize and address their specific needs within their ministry," said Forged Director and Asbury professor of pastoral and Christian ministries Dr. Brian Hull.

A dedicated coaching relationship helps participants who are in youth ministry right now have support, encouragement and accountability. The cohort model also allows for a community to develop that supports each other.

God Continues to Move since the February Outpouring on Campus

Bridgette Campbell serves as coordinator of Outreach Ministry Teams.

Coordinator of Outreach Ministry Teams Bridgette Campbell and Archives Assistants Charlotte Staudt '21 and Diane Troyer joined Asbury University after the Outpouring to assist with the “sending out” of Asbury students around the globe and archiving the world’s response to the event.

With 20 Outpouring teams sent out this summer (35 total since February), students shared both in the United States and abroad at churches, camps, festivals and even in a prison. From Idaho and Texas to Michigan and North Carolina, students also shared their testimonies in the Netherlands, England, Canada, China, Australia and Thailand.

“One student had multiple flight issues and wound up in the airport for most of the day,” Campbell said. “Instead of being discouraged, he stayed in the airport and talked with other passengers about Jesus.”

Students continue to share about God’s faithfulness throughout the fall semester. One group traveled over Labor Day to California with Professor of Worship Arts Dr. Dan Pinkston for the Light at the Lighthouse festival to play worship music and share personal testimonies. Coordinated by the Asbury University Board of Trustees Chair Mr. Larry D. Brown '80, four students traveled to Pennsylvania to share at universities and churches over fall break in October.

On the lower level of Kinlaw Library, Staudt and Troyer collected born-digital material (materials that originate in digital form) to archive the Outpouring.

“From May to September, Diane and I gathered over 20 denominational responses, over 10 documentaries/ conference sessions, over 70 podcasts, over 10 sermons from churches across the globe, over 350 social media posts, over 900 articles, and hundreds of pictures and videos of the Outpouring,” Staudt said, smiling. “The data from all that material is currently being added to a spreadsheet and tagged.”

Both Staudt and Troyer archived digital and print media related to the Outpouring.

“Many of the formats we’ve gathered didn’t exist 50 years ago,” Staudt said. “The Outpouring Collection serves as the University’s first born-digital collection, which reflects the fact that this Outpouring was so driven by the digital world.”

“I loved reading about people’s experiences and seeing the impact across the U.S. and world,” Troyer said.

Staudt, Troyer and Campbell attended the Outpouring in February, all with unique perspectives.

“I heard about the Outpouring from my co-workers at the school where I was working,” Staudt said. “Then, I came on Monday, February 13, to see for myself what was happening.”

Troyer attended the Outpouring during its first week and then babysat children so that their parents could attend.

Campbell heard about the Outpouring from her daughter.

Sarah Grimes, Lena Overman, Eli Baker and Tyler Wilson shared with students at a chapel at Messiah University on October 24.

“Aubrey was one of the students who stayed after chapel on that first day in February,” Campbell said. “I brought some snacks and water bottles for the students and stayed for a couple hours that night. Then, I came back on Sunday, and I was totally changed and spiritually fed.”

Campbell volunteered in February, often working from 12 a.m. to 3 a.m., praying with people, managing lines, directing guests along Macklem Drive and hosting 50 people in her home and Airbnb.

“We really lost all sense of time, and the rest of the world just faded away,” Campbell said. “It is such a blessing to see students passionate about sharing the Outpouring and seeking God’s will for their lives and to be Spirit-led in their words and actions.”

Divine Surprises

In this President's Report, we look back in thankfulness for what God has done this past year as well as look ahead in anticipation of what He will continue to do at Asbury.

"Divine Surprises" is a phrase we have used a lot lately and constitutes a majority of the wonderful things that have happened on campus. I could use my space in this article listing the upgrades, dedications and changes to campus (more than $40 million in construction in the last couple years), or I could list many new scholarships or estate plans that include Asbury, but that list would be too long.

In the wake of the Outpouring that happened in the spring, and in the wake of the hundreds of people that stepped up (when we had shut down our fundraising) to support the work of God in February, we simply are in awe of God's goodness to us at Asbury.

Though winds of culture are definitely breezing and sometimes blowing against us in this interesting time, we focus on maintaining our unapologetically Christian and biblically-based approach to higher education. We are pleased that new friends are joining us, and old friends are getting re-engaged. Our team has been reflecting on God's goodness, His protection, and His blessings as we strategize on how to steward what has been entrusted to us. We continue to pray for wisdom, discernment and more divine surprises.

We indeed are celebrating the highest number of families in our history who gave at a President's Leadership Giving Society level ($1,000 or more in total gifts in a fiscal year) during a period when inflation is real and impacting families. We are celebrating many alumni, parents and friends who are planning to support Asbury with legacy gifts through their estate plan. We are smiling at God's creativity in using Asbury's recently "elevated platform" to bring along new friends who are considering walking beside us in our important mission.

WHY ARE WE SO ASTOUNDED WITH DIVINE SURPRISES?

So many of you reading this have been a part of the story of our mission advancing. YOU are part of our divine surprises. As Paul says in Philippians, we "thank our God upon every remembrance of you."

As we take on the challenges ahead, we are conscious of the saints and clouds of witnesses that are joining us at more and more sacrificial and creative levels. Thank you so much for being a part of our great story and for celebrating and praying with us.

Dr. Mark Troyer
Vice President for STUDENT PROFILE

The Gray Sisters

If you watch an Asbury volleyball practice or match, it wouldn't take long to notice the talent and energy of Emma Grace Gray, a junior elementary education major, and Lucy Kate Gray, a sophomore pre-nursing major. The talented duo are sisters from Lexington, Ky., who chose to continue their educational and volleyball careers at Asbury.

"Emma Grace and Lucy Kate are a wonderful blessing to this program," Head Coach Tiffany Horton said. "They have high character, which is key to making this program successful. They have shown great leadership on and off the court and we are grateful to have them."

The Gray sisters shared the following insights with a member of The Ambassador editorial staff.

Q: How has your faith in Christ grown since coming to AU?

LK: Coming to Asbury, Jesus really changed my life. Here is where I made my faith my own. The main part of this is the community you have at Asbury. Everyone is so invested and hungry for more of the Lord. That drove me to become more like Him.

EG: Similar to LK, I really wanted to make my faith my own. My freshman year, I saw a lot of people that had something that I didn't have at the first WHAM [Worship Him at Midnight] I attended. I saw it and wanted whatever that was. It is great to be in community where other people are striving for it and holding you accountable and pushing you to be better every day.

Q: What did you learn from the team mission trip to Puerto Rico this past summer?

LK: What was beautiful to see is how we turned an old classroom into a new space for troubled women and children who had been abused. We had to scrape old paint off the wall, gross stuff, and then we flipped it into pretty colors like pinks, grays and neutrals. On the top is said "come as you are" in Spanish and English. The heart behind it was just beautiful. We prayed over the room and just asked the Holy Spirit to fill the room so anyone who walked in there would feel welcome and loved."

EG: It was cool that we were a group of women that could go down there and fix up a room for women that were going to have their lives changed hopefully in that room. It was really special as a team to be able to pour into women who were hurting so they can have a glimpse of the Lord through the work that we did.

AU HOSTS SPOON'S FIERCELY FAITHFUL CROSS COUNTRY MEET

On October 7, Asbury hosted the inaugural Spoon's Fiercely Faithful Cross Country Meet. Justin Spoon '21, the most accomplished male cross country student-athlete in Asbury history, passed away March 23, 2023. The two-time team captain was diagnosed with rhabdomyosarcoma, a highly aggressive form of cancer, midway through his senior year.

Spoon courageously fought this disease for over two years with chemotherapy, radiation and numerous surgeries. Throughout this challenge, he was a consistent witness for Christ. Spoon inspired and encouraged other cancer patients, his team of medical professionals, friends and family, and legions of others who followed his victories and setbacks online and marveled at the strength of his character and faith.

TEAMAU STUDENT LEADERS

The Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC) has named its officers for the 2023-24 academic year.

STUDENT ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE (SAAC)

Riley McChord	Soph.	Communication	Volleyball

The SAAC is comprised of two student-athletes from each intercollegiate sport, along with an additional at-large representative and one student representative from the Cheerleading squad. The purpose of the student-led organization is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by fostering a positive student-athlete image within the Eagle teams, the Asbury campus community and the greater surrounding communities.

The group encourages open communication and discussion between coaches, administration and student-athletes. It serves as the voice of the student-athlete on campus and provides valuable insight into how University, NCAA and NCCAA policies may affect them.

NCAA MEMBERSHIP PROCESS UPDATE

Asbury Athletics continues to work through the NCAA Division III membership process. The 2023-24 academic year marks AU's third and final year of provisional membership in NCAA Division III. Asbury is poised to become an active member of the NCAA on Sept. 1, 2024

The theme for Asbury student-athletes this year is SERVE > TRAIN > COMPETE for the Glory of God. There are several ways to support the nearly 400 student-athletes, coaches and staff that comprise TeamAU.

- ▶ PRAY that they would draw closer to Christ as a result of being a part of TeamAU
- ▶ JOIN the TeamAU Circle of Prayer
- ▶ WATCH a game in person or on the Asbury Sports Digital Network
- ▶ MAKE a gift or multi-year pledge to the TeamAU Fund at asbury.edu/teamau
- ▶ FOLLOW @asburyeagles on social media or asburyeagles.com

LYBASS PLAZA DEDICATED AT ATHLETICS COMPLEX

In September, Asbury hosted a dedication for the Lybass Garden Plaza made possible through the 2022 Reunion gift project and gifts from Lybass friends and family. This plaza provides space in the Kirkland Athletic Complex for students and families to enjoy.

The Lybass Family joined Dr. Kevin Brown in September for a ribbon cutting of the Lybass Plaza.

TEAMAU ANNOUNCES CCS MEMBERSHIP

Asbury has accepted an invitation to become a member of the Collegiate Conference of the South (CCS).

The conference features nine member institutions (Agnes Scott College, Berea College, Belhaven University, Covenant College, Huntingdon College, LaGrange College, Maryville College, Piedmont University, and Wesleyan College) and sponsors championships across 14 sports.

"Asbury University is honored and excited to join the Collegiate Conference of the South (CCS)," said Dr. Kevin Brown, President of Asbury University. "We are proud to join a conference whose schools strive for academic rigor, student development, and high-level athletic performance that prioritizes effort, excellence, hospitality and character. We are excited for the days ahead!" "Asbury is an institution deeply dedicated to development of the whole student, which makes for an ideal fit with the CCS," said Dr. Bryan Coker of Maryville, CCS Council of Presidents Chair. "We have been quite impressed with the entire Asbury community and are so excited to welcome them to the conference."

"Asbury truly understands the NCAA Division III philosophy and commitment to a holistic approach for student-athletes," said Beth Vansant, CCS Commissioner. "I look forward to developing relationships with the community of Asbury in the years to come."

Empowering Education through Generations

Highlighting our youngest and oldest faithful givers

Among Asbury's oldest donors, an alumna, who requests to be anonymous, continues to annually give to Asbury after turning 100 years old this past July. She attended the University in the early 1940s with America entering World War II and coming off the Great Depression.

"Many of the boys left for the service, so Asbury almost resembled an only-girls school," she said.

Switching from her undergraduate concentration of home economics and merchandising, she moved into teaching for six years of her post-grad life, spanning from English, library work and later her niche in home economics. After her parents passed, she and her five siblings founded the William R. & Willie P. Edwards Memorial Scholarship in honor of their parents.

"Momma and Daddy sent us, five students, to school during the war, so we thought giving to other students would be appropriate," she said. "I appreciate Asbury more every day as I get older. The college was the perfect spot for a strong-willed girl ready to make tough decisions in her career and the world. Asbury has leaders who have done a wonderful job leading the college through these years of change and schools like Asbury are our only hope."

Throughout the conversation, the alumna never failed to showcase her delight in being an Asburian: "I'm so proud to be a graduate of the class of 1944, and I might be the only member of that class left!"

Meanwhile, Asbury's youngest givers, 10-year-olds Anna Whaley and Elliette Higdon, donated a tithe from their entrepreneurial business selling bracelets and beads.

"As a school project, we had to come up with a business, and Anna and I had the idea to make jewelry," said Elliette. For their 4th grade enrichment class, the girls branded "Beadz n' Bandz," selling handmade items such as soap, jewelry, pencil toppers, hair clips and keychains. Once the business fair ended and the business practically sold out, both Anna and Elliette decided to donate the profits as a gift. Having ties to Asbury, both Anna's and Elliette's mothers, Jamie Corbitt '04 Higdon and Leslie Adams '94 Whaley, attended Asbury and instilled a respect and love for the University.

"We've both visited Asbury at least once and know it's a good school," said Elliette. "We decided to give some of our profits to student scholarships because we knew it would help their families and we were excited knowing we were helping families send their kids to Asbury."

After extending their business branded "Adding a Bit More Sparkle to the World One Bead at a Time!" to social media, Anna and Elliette learned the importance of making product to sell ahead of time to keep up with sales in entrepreneurial endeavors. With a successful launch into the business arena, one prominent theme that stood out to the girls was giving.

“Giving means making sacrifices to help others. It can be sacrificing your time or your money to honor the Lord.” ANNA

"Being generous means using the gifts and talents God has given you to bless other people and draw them closer to God," stated Elliette.

ASBURY OUTDOOR VENUE UPDATE

Not far from the new Lybass Garden Plaza, Asbury completed Phase I of the Outdoor Venue, which includes site work, track, synthetic turf field, lights, and storage building. Once granted certification, the venue will be open to be used by the community. Asbury is actively fundraising for Phase II, which includes locker rooms, bathrooms, coaches offices, event space and viewing patios. An anonymous donor family has pledged to match every dollar raised for Phase II before December 31, up to $1 million. To donate to the Outdoor Venue, visit asbury.edu/outdoor-venue.
